

A new service to support women and young people involved in the justice system.

A significant investment has been made by HMPPS in Wales, the South Wales and Gwent Police, Crime Commissioners and Welsh Government, to deliver sustainable improvements to the outcomes and experiences of women and young adults throughout their justice journey.

This will be delivered by The Nelson Trust and its partners; bthechange, St Giles Cymru, Pact and Media Academy Cymru (MAC). The new ONE Wales Service can help you:

If you are a woman, we will support you to make positive, sustainable changes in your life with:

- holistic one-on-one support through our trauma-informed, gender-responsive service
- provide you with one-on-one emotional and practical support, tailored to your needs
- an outreach service - we come to you
- support with clothing, food, toiletries, and basic needs.

If you are a young person (18-25), we will:

- support you to overcome barriers
- help you access opportunities
- get the skills you need to transform your life.

We will do this by providing:

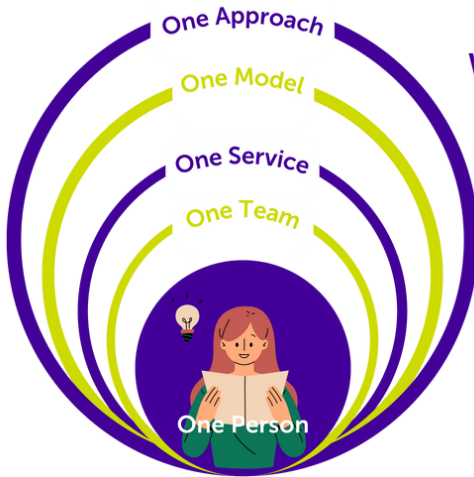

- one-on-one sessions
- group workshops
- recreational and creative activities

that will help you achieve your full potential.

A new way of working with women and young people in Wales.

We are here to support you and will be thrilled to meet you.

If you have any questions, please email us on:

wales.info@nelsontrust.com

To refer yourself or another person into the OneWales service, visit:

www.nelsontrust.com/one-wales

or scan the QR code

Working together for positive change

THE NELSON TRUST

St Giles CYMRU

Troi gorffennol yn ddyfodol
Turning a past into a future

